CSC MEETING WITH CSOs ON RESERVATION IN SERVICES

The consultative meeting of the Cabinet Sub-Committee (CSC) Working Group with Civil Society Organizations on Reservation in Government Services was held at Hotel Japfü, Kohima on 5th March 2021.

In his introductory remarks, Minister, Planning & Coordination, Land Revenue, Neiba Kronu said that the issue of reservation in government services has been deliberated by various committees in the past like the Banuo Jamir Committee, Kevichusa Committee, Temjen Toy Committee etc. While reservation for indigenous Nagas was introduced in 1967, the reservation policy for backward tribes has been in existence since 1977. Over the last 44 years of its implementation in the State, the reservation policy has undergone several changes. No policy is perfect and needs to evolve with time, and accordingly, the Government decided to review the existing reservation policy.

Kronu stated that in August 2019, a Review Committee on Job Reservation Policy was constituted under the chairperson of Sentiyanger Imchen, ACS & Development Commissioner and Members consisting of Home Commissioner, Administrative Head of P&AR, Administrative Head of DIJDA and Director, DUDA as Member Secretary. The Cabinet in its meeting held on 2nd March 2020 decided to reconstitute the Committee to review the existing reservation policy of the State under the chairmanship of J. Alam, ACS & Development Commissioner with Members from P&AR Department, Home Department, DUDA and Justice & Law Department. He also said that the above Committee to review the existing reservation policy is yet to submit its report to the CSC.

Kronu said that the State Government had decided to set up Nagaland Staff Selection Board (NSSB) and it was notified on 20th July 2020. However, due to various grievances voiced about its composition and scope etc., the NSSB was kept on hold by the Cabinet and it has not yet started functioning. The present CSC was constituted in light of the ENSF Charter of Demands rejecting the present form of the NSSB regulations, 2020 and certain other grievances relating to implementation of the reservation policy by the NPSC, he added.

Minister Kronu informed that the Cabinet on 25th November 2020 included Advisor, IPR, SCERT and Home Guards, Toshi Wungtung in place of Lt. C. M. Chang. Further, the Cabinet in its meeting on 14th January 2021 decided to include Minister, Metsubo, Advisor K. T. Sukhalu and Advisor Zhaleo Rio, in the Working Group of the CSC. It also decided to include representatives of NSF, ENSF, ENPO, ENGOA, CNTC and Tenymia People Organization (TPO) in the working group besides others as the Committee deemed fit.

Kronu informed that the Cabinet also discussed on 18th December 2020 the representation submitted to the Chief Minister on 14th December 2020 by the Core Committee on Rationalization of Reservation Policy (CCoRoRP) on Nagaland Reservation Policy consisting of the five tribal student bodies (i) All Sumi Students' Union (SKK), (ii) Angami Students' Union (ASU), (iii) Ao Students' Union (AKM), (iv) Lotha Students' Union

(LSU) and (v) Rengma Students' Union (RSU) and another representation from Tenymia Students organizations.

Minister Kronu also said that the CSC felt that the issues relating to reservation and functioning of NSSB required wider consultation and asked for views and thoughts to have a comprehensive look at the Reservation Policy of the State. Reservation for the Backward Tribes in Nagaland began in 1977 when the State implemented 25% reservation in non-technical and non-gazetted posts for seven tribes which were identified as Backward Tribes because they were educationally and economically backward and also having insignificant representation in the services in the State for a period of 10 years. More tribes have since been added and the quantum of reservation was increased. It is presently at 37% with 25% earmarked for the six Eastern Naga BT tribes and 12% earmarked for the other four BT tribes. The roster system was introduced in 2001 to ensure equitable distribution of reservation among the Backward Tribes, he added.

Chief Secretary, Nagaland, J. Alam, IAS while delivering the welcome address thanked all the Government Officials, Civil Society Organizations and participants for attending the meeting so as to discuss and deliberate important issue as it touches the future of the educated youth in all walks of life.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY 2021 CELEBRATED ACROSS THE STATE

NAGALAND STATE COMMISSION FOR WOMEN AWARD LAUNCHED ON INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY 2021:

Celebrating and honouring women across the State and world, Nagaland observed the International Women's Day 2021 under the theme 'Women in leadership: Achieving an equal future in a COVID-19 world' at Hotel Vivor, Kohima on 8th March 2021. The programme was jointly organised by Nagaland State Commission for Women (NSCE), Nagaland State Social Welfare Board (NSSWB), State Resource Centre for Women (SRCW), under Social Welfare Department.

Commissioner & Secretary, Social Welfare, Sarah R. Ritse highlighted some of the women centric schemes and activities under the Ministry of Women & Child Development, of which the Social Welfare is the nodal department. She mentioned that under NSCW, schemes like 181 Women Helpline, Childline 1098, State Protection Services addressed violence against women and children during the pandemic, also bringing up the gap in services for rehabilitation and repatriation of victims of domestic violence, victims of trafficking, and persons with special needs. States like Tamil Nadu visited Nagaland to study the success and progress of 181 Women Helpline and SRCW. ICDS and One Stop Centre are among the good performing schemes which are at par with other states, and this speaks volume of the dedication and passion of the younger Naga women, though we still need to strive and make sure that every woman benefits from these schemes, Ritse said. She also appealed to the stakeholders to work hand in hand with the District Administration and to make the schemes a success.

Chairperson, NSCW, Khrienuo Tachü, applauded the Naga women for their resilience and great fortitude amidst many challenges and setbacks. She said that though our social institutions, norms and practices are more advantageous for men, Naga women have also become important leaders in various fields. She highlighted women leaders like Raino Shaiza, Neichiülieü Nikki Haralu, Dr. Khrielieü Kire, Banuo Z. Jamir, Prof. Temsula Ao, Rev. Dr. Noksangchila and many more who have been role models for women both at home and outside the State. She said that with the changing times, though both daughters and sons are given equal opportunities and access to education, there are still norms, expectations and obstacles that women have to overcome. Also, though women are emerging as leaders in various fields, there is a need for the Naga society in general to introspect on women attaining leadership in the political arena, and for women to be given more space in decision making, both in the local and state level.

Khrienuo also requested the State Government to introduce the Acquired Property Bill in the Nagaland Legislative Assembly, stating that the issue is not with the ancestral property, and it is the private decisions of the parents regarding acquired property, but as a statutory body of the Government of Nagaland, NSCW seeks to intervene in cases where parents who have no sons but have only daughters are faced with the issue of inheritance of acquired property.

Chief Secretary, Nagaland, J. Alam said that in his career of 30 years, he has seen positive changes and that Naga women are coming forward in many fields. However, a lot still needs to be continued as when one goes through any social change, there is disruption in customs and traditions. Over the last one year, many Naga women showed leadership qualities in fighting against COVID-19, and he applauded the women for the hard work and for quietly working to achieve their goals. J. Alam said that the need of the hour is to recognise and honour the sacrifices and hard work of the women in building their homes.

On the occasion, Chief Secretary, J. Alam presented the Nagaland State Commission for Women Award 2021 to five women achievers, namely Abeiu Meru, President, Naga Mothers' Association; Dr. Vezokholu Theyo, Chief Medical Officer, Kohima; Dr. Visakhonü Hibo, President, Nagaland College Principals' Association and Principal, Japfu Christian College, Kigwema; Pastor S. Anungla, Pastor, Chang Baptist Church, Kohima, and Inspector Rose Yanthan (UBI), Officer-in-Charge, Women Cell, Police Station, Dimapur.

A short video was screened, showing women working in various fields as Entrepreneurs, Nurse, Bus Conductor, Taxi Driver, etc. and the challenges they face in their professions as women. The programme was also attended by Director General of Police, Nagaland, John Longkumer, a host of senior government officials and women leaders.

MYKIFEST AWARD 2020-21 HELD AT KOHIMA:

Women Resource Development, Nagaland held the MykiFest Award, 2020-21 on 8th March 2021, which coincide with the International Women's Day, at Hotel Japfü, Kohima.

In her keynote address, Commissioner & Secretary, Anenla T. Sato, IAS, said that MykiFest was launched during 2018-19, and is an annual event initiated to celebrate the contribution of women as equal partners in the socio-economic development of the State. The productivity, initiative, and ingenuity of our Naga women are vast and ever-developing. However, much of it goes unnoticed in general, or ignored due to the inherent bias that still exists in a male-dominated society. Thus, she said that the MykiFest was conceptualized to provide an encouraging platform for a wide category of women to come together to interact, do business, exchange ideas, showcase their talents or to sell their innovative products, while endeavouring to popularize the event within and outside the State. Sato also said that women should strive hard to uplift the society and other women and that everything depends on the preparedness of a wise woman. She also said that due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the Department had to postpone and significantly downsize the festival, but felt that recognition had to be given where it was due. Hence, the MykiFest Awards was instituted to recognize and emphasize the activities of NGOs and other women groups who have been working towards the upliftment of women in the State.

Advisor, Animal Husbandry & Veterinary Services, and Women Resource Development, R. Khing, in his speech mentioned that the role of women in the present society has greatly changed for the better. Khing also said that they are more hardworking than men and women are the ones who are bringing progression in the State. He further mentioned that he wanted to see more of women participation in politics and encouraged women to join politics. He asked the womenfolk to become the leaders of the Naga society and also called upon them to guide the youths for a better tomorrow.

The MykiFest award was divided into two categories - In the group category, the awards were presented to Runway Nagaland, Dimapur, North East Network, Nagaland, Apparels & Accessories Production Team, TLI Project, Department of Women Resource Development. In the individual category, the awards were presented to Vimenuo Belho, home based entrepreneur from Kohima, Iboli Zhimo a self-taught artist who founded Listone Pebble Art at Thahekhu, Dimapur, Vikengunu Kera Fatima from Khuzama Village, Mezüheno, a rural entrepreneur from Khonoma Village and Phaoniu Shio and upcoming painter from the Khamniungan tribe.

Additional Director & HoD, WRD, Vilone Sakhrie in his vote of thanks mentioned that the award is to target and acknowledge the lesser known people and would like to focus on such categories of entrepreneurs. He also said that MykiFest Award will be held once in every four years.

CM LAUNCHES 75 YEARS OF INDIA'S INDEPENDENCE AT SECRETARIAT PLAZA

Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio inaugurating the photo exhibition on 'Celebrating 75 Years of India's Independence' at Nagaland Secretariat Plaza, Kohima on 12th March 2021.

Along with the rest of the country, Nagaland launched the celebration of the 75 years of India's Independence on 12th March 2021 at Nagaland Civil Secretariat Plaza, Kohima. The celebration started with a march which was flagged off by the Principal Secretary, Home, Abhijit Sinha. Students of various schools and colleges from Kohima took part in the march, which started at High School Junction and ended at the Civil Secretariat Plaza.

Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio speaking at the function stated that the 75th Anniversary of India's Independence is on the 15th August 2022, however the launching started on 12th March, which is 75 weeks before the Anniversary Day. Rio stated that 12th March also occupies a stellar place on the timeline of the freedom movement as it was on this day in 1930, 91 years ago, when the Father of the Nation, Mahatma Gandhi started his most famous, inspiring and epochal Dandi March from Sabarmati Ashram in Ahmedabad to Dandi, a coastal village in Gujarat, about 385 Km away, which was intended to protest against the nefarious provisions of the salt tax imposed by the British Government.

Rio said that at the dawn of independence, India had many overwhelming challenges before it.

However, over the decades, the country has been able to deepen and strengthen the democratic processes and foundations in the country, and have brought about significant social and economic equality among the people.

The Chief Minister stated that Nagaland which came into existence, about 16 years after India's Independence, has also been moving shoulder to shoulder with the rest in order to make all those dreams a reality. He also spoke of the improvements in various sectors such as education, human resources, road, power and health sector. Rio commented on the substantial progress and achievements by the State and the entire nation and urged everyone to put in their effort to achieve their various developmental goals, and ensure that no individual is deprived of his fundamental rights. Rio also mentioned that the State Government is striving for early political solution, a matter intricately linked to our identity and history, and reminded about the life and the message of the father of our nation who always advocated peace, non-violence and purity of means.

In the celebration of the India's 75 years of Independence 'Azadi Ka Amrut Mahotsav', cultural presentation of song and dance display were also performed by various artists organised by TaFMA and Art & Culture.

A photo exhibition with the theme 'Celebrating 75 Years of India's Independence,' organized by the Field Outreach Bureau, Kohima, Bureau of Outreach & Communication, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India was also inaugurated by Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio on the same day.

struggle. It consists of old and rare photographs of well-known and lesser known freedom fighters of the country, Gandhi's advent into the freedom struggle, the historic march from Sabarmati to Dandi to break the British Salt Law which became a precursor to the countrywide mass movement against the British rule and intensified the freedom movement. Photos of freedom fighters like Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Subhash Chandra Bose and important events connected in their fight for India's Independence were also exhibited.

WORLD WATER DAY OBSERVED

KOHIMA:

World Water Day, organized by Public Health Engineering Department (PHED), was celebrated under the theme 'Valuing water' on 22nd March 2021 at Deputy Commissioner (DC)'s Conference Hall, Kohima.

Delivering a keynote address, Executive Engineer, PHED, R Kohima Division Er. Spongnyanger stated that the World Water Day is observed on 22nd March annually which focuses to raise awareness on the global water crisis, adding that people and organisations mark World Water Day every year by taking action to tackle water crisis in different ways. He urged the citizens to dedicate themselves by practising ways to conserve water in our daily routine by following some important and easy ways to conserve water such as, keeping the tap closed when not in use and not to ignore any water leaks which would lead to draining out huge amount of water, practising rainwater harvesting and take it up as a culture, find ways on how to recharge groundwater, protect water resources and find ways on how to conserve water pre-monsoon and post-monsoon.

DC, Kohima, Gregory Thejewelie exhorted the participants that water is connected to every form of life on earth and is a basic human need where everyone needs access to safe water. He urged the PHED to create awareness on rainwater harvesting particularly for a place like Kohima, where water crisis occurs especially during the dry season and requested the Department to ensure safe drinking water to the citizens.

Emphasizing on the safe drinking water, Chemist, DWSM, PHED Kohima Division, Dzesetseinuo Kiso said that safe drinking water should ideally be clear with no smell, free from pathogens, not salty and free from chemicals. She added that in most parts of the African and Asian and advancing country like India, safe drinking water was not readily available, particularly in rural areas, one reason safe drinking water is of paramount concern is that 75% of all diseases in developing countries arises from polluted drinking water, contaminated water not only has the potential to pose immediate threat to human, but also can effect an individual productive rate. She mentioned that according to WHO Report, an estimated 1.1 billion people in the world drink unsafe water, approximately 3.1% of the global annual death (1.7 million) and 3.7% (54.2% million) of the annual burden are caused by the use of unsafe water and lack of basic sanitation and hygiene.

WOKHA:

District Coordinator, DWSM, Wokha Aremo

Ovung while delivering the keynote address encouraged the gathering to be torchbearers in creating awareness on the global water crisis and the urgent need for conserving water which is vital for sustaining life. He also sensitized the gathering about the "Jal Shakti Abhiyan-Catch the Rain campaign, where it falls, when it falls" which was launched by the Prime Minister on World Water Day 2021, which aims to encourage the public to construct rainwater harvesting structures.

IEC Consultant, Khonzani Kithan spoke on the theme 'Valuing water' and 'Water2me' which is the year's digital theme. She elaborated on the judicious use of water, importance of water and its health benefits. She also urged the gathering to focus on the current water crisis and to cooperate in order to overcome the crisis and to inculcate and follow the basic ways of harvesting and conserving water.

PRESS COUNCIL OF INDIA SUB-COMMITTEE VISITS NAGALAND

PCI Sub-Committee, Convenor and members interacting with media persons at Hotel Japfu, Kohima on 22nd March 2021.

INTERACTION WITH MEDIA PERSONS:

Directorate of Information & Public Relations organised a meeting with the Press Council Of India (PCI) Sub-Committee along with media persons in regard to the evolve guidelines for the media and security forces on reporting in conflict situation and to organize activities particularly to North Eastern states, Naxal affected areas and Jammu and Kashmir at Hotel Japfu, Kohima on 22nd March 2021.

Three member team of PCI Sub-Committee led by Convenor, Jaishankar Gupta, along with Members Kamal Nain Narang and Pradeep Kumar Jain paid a two-day visit to Nagaland and the team held meetings with various stakeholders- Press, Senior Police Officials, Governor and Chief Minister. Sub-Committee Member, Jaishankar Gupta addressing the media said that the press face problems working in conflict zones and taking side with states or being neutral in printing articles. He remarked that across the state, often press are unable to perform their duty due to pressure from organizations, NGOs or other elements. He added that main purpose of the interaction with the media persons is to discuss free and fair on the problems and issues faced by them while discharging their duty as journalists. He also lamented that the welfare of journalists are neglected as till date only few states have implemented welfare schemes for the journalists across the state. He also acknowledged DIPR's initiative in providing various welfare schemes to the accredited journalists.

President, Nagaland Press Association, H. Chishi, a senior journalist participating in the discussion opined that today, journalists do not know where they stand, as the media are remote controlled by certain group of people. He stated that the credibility of Indian media is highly questionable by the world not because of terrorism issues of Jammu and Kashmir but many other issues contributing in making India to rank at the bottom of Free Press. He remarked the democracy is not fully efficient without the free press. Also while extending appreciation to DIPR for providing various welfare schemes to the journalists in Nagaland, he however said that still much more needs to be done.

Director, IPR, Z. Tokishe appealed to the PCI Members to strongly recommend to the Government of India to implement life insurance and pension schemes for the journalists of Nagaland. He also highlighted the various welfare schemes provided by the Department for the accredited journalists of Nagaland.

The team also distributed questionnaires to journalists to find out the problems and issues faced by journalists which can be filled and sent through their email or to the Director, IPR. Other media persons also shared their opinions and suggestions and various problems faced by them while discharging their duties to PCI during the discussion.

INTERACTION WITH CM:

The Press Council of India Sub-Committee met and interacted with Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio at his Residential Office on 23rd March 2021.

The Sub-Committee briefed the Chief Minister on the purpose of their visit to the State and highlighted the various problems faced by journalists and media persons in the country, particularly in conflict areas.

Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio briefed the team on various issues and the current affairs of the State. He informed that the welfare of the press fraternity in the State is relatively good as compared to other states. He also apprised the Sub-Committee members on the steps taken by the State Government for the welfare of the press fraternity.

The meeting was also attended by the Chief Secretary, Jan E Alam.

INTERACTION WITH SENIOR POLICE OFFICERS:

The Press Council of India (PCI) Sub-Committee met DGP, Nagaland, T. John Longkumer, IPS and other Senior Police Officers of the State at PHQ, Kohima on 23rd March 2021. The three Member Sub-Committee led by Convenor, Jaishankar Gupta and members Kamal Nain Narang and Pradeep Kumar had a lengthy discussion with the Senior Police Officers of the State on matters related to media management and reporting from conflict areas.

Sub-Committee Convenor, Jaishankar Gupta during the discussion expressed his concerns over the need for authentic news backed by proper facts to be presented regarding any incident or event or conflict even from the remotest of areas in the State and elaborated on the role of the security forces in ensuring that the media is presented with all the proper facts and figures regarding any event, and also the need to have a Nodal Officer who would be in-charge of disseminating information to the media fraternity. He said that the sub-committee was visiting the State so that they could get a proper view of the ground realities in the State and to experience in person the problems or difficulties, if any, that the media might be facing in the state, only after which they would be working towards formulating certain guidelines to be followed by media and security forces on reporting from conflict areas.

T. John Longkumer, IPS updated the team on the current scenario in the State and expressed that the State is relatively peaceful and that there were hardly any issues of security or threat to the Media Fraternity in the State and emphasised largely on the point that the Naga people enjoyed their right to freedom of speech and expression to a greater extent as compared to people living in other parts of the country. He further mentioned that the media personnel and the security forces share a very cordial relationship with one another. Other Senior Police Officers also added to the point mentioned by the DGP by saying that the Media in the State is very independent and devoid of any influence by the Government or any other organizations.

ONE DAY SEMINAR ON NARCOTIC DRUGS: LAWS AND PROCEDURE HELD

Participants at the seminar on 'Narcotic Drugs: Laws and Procedure' held at Rhododendron Hall, Police Complex, Chumukedima, Dimapur on 22nd March 2021.

DIG (Training & Camp Commandant), Police Complex Chumukedima, Aotemsu, IPS on 22nd March 2021 opined that Dimapur is a transit point of a very vicious cycle that facilitate movement of narcotic substances in the State and an underlying challenge of the law enforcement agency in recent times is the emergence of new synthetic drugs which are easy to manufacture and smaller in size and that cracking modus operandi of the peddlers is critical to the fight.

The DIG was addressing a section of officers from the Police, Justice & Law, Excise, Drug Controller, Health & Family Welfare departments during the 'One day seminar on 'Narcotic Drugs: Laws and Procedure.'

The programme was organized by Nagaland State Legal Services Authority (NSLSA) in collaboration with Narcotic Control Bureau, Guwahati Zonal Unit, Guwahati at Rhododendron

Hall, Police Complex, Chumukedima, Dimapur.

Aotemsu said that the modus operandi in more than the last 20 years have evolved and changed subsequently. More so the assignment and nomenclature of the enforcement agency have changed. He said that new synthetic drugs that have evolved in recent years could prove to be the easiest and leave way to peddle drugs without making anyone suspicious. The same additional doesn't require huge dose. One of the underlying challenges in the front, he mentioned, is that everything now seems normal and are easy to pass through any of the checkpoints. He called the participants to take the call to give feedbacks and explore insights into the obstacles and problems faced in the ground and how to tackle the challenges in this kind of investigation in Nagaland.

NSLSA Member Secretary, N. Longshithung Ezung, NJS opined that laws dealing with drugs and narcotic are special legislation requiring specialized knowledge. "It needs efficient skill of handling the case from the stage of arrest to final disposal of the case," he said. With the subject having more stringent penal provisions than many other legislations requiring penalty and that it also prescribes certain special procedures of arrest, search, seizure etc. and also for handling seized drugs for the purpose of collecting evidence, he pointed that it has been an area of interest discussed among judiciary and the law enforcing agency in various platform. Towards this, he called for concerted efforts of stakeholders - judiciary, law enforcing agencies, prosecutors and bar to fully and effectively implement NDPS cases noting that the seminar will be of learning and equipping oneself with required knowledge and skills.

Resource Person Narcotic Control Bureau (NCB), Guwahati, Manish Modi, Intelligence Officer and SP, NCB, Imphal Zone, Suresh Kumar gave detailed presentation on salient features of Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985, Investigation & Common Errors, Trials and Disposal Orders and important judgements.

Advisor, School Education, K T Sukhalu speaking at the programme said that the newly installed Lab will be of great help to the students of the school. He remarked that maths and science have been a big challenge for many students and he expressed hope that the Lab will not only simplify the process of learning maths but will make it more interesting too.

Sukhalu urged the teachers to concentrate on learning the techniques during orientation training so that students will be able to pick up science and maths without any mind block or barriers. He also challenged the students to have determination, focus and patience in all walks of life but more so in maths. He further congratulated Nischal for all the hard work and his commitment for the younger generation, and coming all the way to Nagaland to encourage the boys and girls.

Founder & Mentor, Nischal's Smart Learning Solutions, Nishal Narayanam said that across the world, most of the students have a fear and phobia and dislike towards mathematics mainly because at an early age, the foundation and fundamentals were not strongly learnt. He expressed confidence that once the students have command over the concepts and fundamentals of maths, learning the subject will be fun and one can even pursue a career in it.

Nishal remarked that math being the father of all sciences should be an activity based learning making it more joyful, fun and playful. He urged the students to have a scientific temperament and the vigour to correlate every concept they learn and apply this in real life. He stated that learning by doing is the most effective proven practice and establishing the math and science laboratory is to inculcate learning by doing. He also challenged the students to be catalysts in their journey of learning mathematics and sciences and transforming math fear into joy. He also urged the teachers to make the best use of the Lab and make learning interesting and fun for the students.

Chief Executive, C R Rao, AIMSC Hyderabad, Dr. Yugandhar also delivering a short speech said that the evolution of mathematics and computer science today will invariably shape our world tomorrow. He also said that the state-of-the-art laboratory is highly innovative, and students and teachers using the Lab will bring paradigm change in the teaching and learning process. He added that CM Rao institute is playing an important role in executing crucial and sensitive projects related to mathematical and computer science. He further urged the students to take full advantage of the Nischals Lab as it will help to remove math phobia among students and pave way for better understanding of the subject.

Principle Director, School Education, Shanavas C, IAS also informed that similar labs have been installed in Dr. Neilhouzhü Kire, GHSS, Kohima, GHSS, Dimapur, GHS, Zunheboto and GHSS, Mon and Mathematics Laboratory in GHSS, Phek and GHSS, Tuensang.

More than 1000 teleconsultations has been conducted through this platform and have received good feedback from medical doctors and Community Health Officers (CHO).

Pangnyu added that the health workforce have been on the frontline, fighting the pandemic and there is a need to equip them with the right knowledge, skills, and expertise. He stated that Nagaland in partnership with USAID-NISHTHA/Jhpiego, has implemented the i-Learn App which is a CHO capacity building and performance tracking application. It is a learning management system for CHOs with self-facilitated learning for improving and learning new skills in clinical and non-clinical areas.

Pangnyu stated that the initiative will be able to support CHOs in enhancing their skills and capacities in various domains and ultimately ensure provision of quality and affordable healthcare services and hoped to build stronger, well-skilled, and equipped health workers to provide quality and accessible healthcare services to the community.

Mission Director, NHM, Dr. I. Talitemsula

Jamir stated that the success of the ambitious programme especially within the given timeline will not be possible without the CHOs, who lead the primary healthcare team at the HWCS, thereby bringing quality care closer to the community. CHOs are a vital cadre of the health workforce to bring quality, affordable and accessible healthcare to the doorstep of our communities and it is important to strengthen their skills since they will be at the forefront of healthcare delivery at the HWCS. The platform also includes a unique architecture where it will be possible to monitor the progress of CHOs across HWCS which will help in empowering them with new skill sets.

Director, Health Office USAID, Sangita Patel in her address pointed out that USAID is committed to protect the safety and health security of the global workforce and ensure to continue life-saving mission across the world, and support partner countries in their response to COVID-19. NISHTHA is supporting the State Government of Nagaland for moving from a fragmented to comprehensive primary healthcare through operationalization of Ayushman Bharat - Health and Wellness Centres, she added

Patel also thanked the State Government for the partnership to work together and combat the pandemic, building a stronger and resilient health system and health workforce to ensure that everyone has access to quality and accessible healthcare services.

PHED COMMISSIONS NEW WATER SUPPLY PROJECT FOR KOHIMA TOWN

The Department of Public Health Engineering (PHE) commissioned a new water supply project for Kohima town by pumping from Zari River at Water Treatment Plant Site, Mima village on 26th March 2021.

Chief Minister (CM) of Nagaland, Neiphiu Rio inaugurated and commissioned the new water supply project and lauded the Department for the initiative taken to construct a water plant for the denizens of Kohima town. The CM on behalf of the Government and Department extended his appreciation to the source owners as well as the Southern Angamis, particularly Mima and Kezoma village, for their contribution in augmentation of the water supply.

Rio stated that the project started in 2012 and took some time to implement due to misunderstanding in land issues, natural calamities, COVID-19 pandemic and in between technical difficulties were faced delaying the commissioning of the project. He urged for cooperation from the Department, the villagers, town dwellers and the
